

Two Men Shot In Quarrel Over Dog

Millard Schneider, 36, of Sherwood Ave., Lake Villa, and his 16-year-old son, Gary, were shot Sunday night in a quarrel with Kenneth Kowalski over a poodle dog.

The Schneiders were reportedly shot by Kowalski when Millard Schneider said the dog was his, and picked it up to take it from the house.

Sheriff's deputies Edward Kujat and Paul Lewis were called to the 19th Hole, a tavern on Route 59, at about 5:30 p.m. Sunday. They found Gary Schneider in the kitchen of the tavern with a bullet wound in his right leg.

He said he had been shot by Kowalski, and that his father was still at the Kowalski home and had been shot also.

The Schneiders said they had gone to the Kowalski home on Route 59 near Petite Lake, the Oelerich farm, to see a poodle that had been advertised for sale.

They were admitted to the home by Mrs. Kowalski, who said she would have to get the dog from her father's home near the Lindenhurst Plaza. The Schneiders waited at the Kowalski home while Mrs. Kowalski went to get the dog.

When Millard Schneider saw the dog, he said it was his and picked it up to leave the home. Mrs. Kowalski tried to take the dog, she said, and Schneider pushed her away.

At this, Kowalski went to a desk and took out a revolver. He told Millard to put the dog down or he'd shoot. Schneider refused, and continued to walk from the house.

Kowalski said he then fired low. The first shot struck Millard in the ribs, the second glanced off a door and hit Gary in the leg.

Gary went to the 19th Hole for help. Deputies found Schneider in the doorway of the home, with a wound from a .32 Colt revolver. The Rescue Squad took both men to the hospital.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Kowalski was holding the revolver when they arrived. Kenneth Kowalski was charged with aggravated assault and later released on $2,000 bond.

Schneider is the son of former Lake Villa Mayor Walter Schneider, and a brother of Maynard Schneider of Antioch.

Antioch Police Force Crack Burglary Ring

Antioch police broke up a burglary ring last weekend with the arrest of three young men.

Charged with burglary were Leonard D. Wright, 18 years old, of 3706 W. Ann St., McHenry; Robert D. Miller, 19, 422 Highland Drive, McHenry; and David Moore, 23, of McHenry.

The young men admitted breaking into Lyons-Ryan Ford Sales and Earl Stringer Dodge about 3 a.m. Saturday, December 10, and taking about $170 in cash and cigarettes.

The men were arrested before the burglary was discovered. Sergeant Emil Ehner of the Antioch Police was driving a cab on Route 173 near Antioch when he spotted the men hitch hiking at about 5 a.m. He notified the Antioch police, and Officer Harold Mason and Art Mollenhour of the Lake County Sheriff's office picked them up for questioning. Chief Jack Heick was notified when it was discovered they had the large amount of cash on them.

The men admitted getting the money from the two Antioch car dealers and from a break-in at a Buick dealer's in Fox Lake. They also admitted to other burglaries in McHenry County and the village of McHenry, and in Fox Lake.

Warrants for their arrest were signed by the Antioch police, and the other villages intend to issue warrants for the robberies committed in their jurisdiction.

Chief Jack Heick said he wanted to thank the McHenry County and village police, the Fox Lake police and Art Mollenhour of the Lake County sheriff's office for their cooperation in the case.

Village Board Tightens Up Vehicle Tag Ordinance

Tuesday night's meeting of the Antioch Village board opened with the approval of two amendments to ordinances.

One, published in this issue of the Antioch News, relates to the licensing of motor vehicles. The amendments cover village vehicle stickers of dealers and businesses.

The new amendment provides that dealers must purchase a village vehicle sticker for each license issued to him by the state, at $6.00 for the first sticker and $2.00 for each additional sticker.

The second section of the ordinance states that any firm or corporation which maintains its principal place of business in Antioch shall purchase a vehicle sticker for each vehicle in operation.

The board unanimously approved a motion to pass, approve and publish the ordinance.

The second ordinance approved by the board is aimed at keeping parkways free of undesirable trees and shrubs, and at preventing the planting of either over sewer lines now being located in some parkways.

The ordinance provides that a permit must be secured from the village board before planting any tree, plant or shrub on a parkway of the village.

The second section provides that property owners must trim trees adjacent to parkway to ten feet above the sidewalk or parkway.

The third and fourth sections provide that "no one shall in any way deface any tree, plant or shrub on village property, not attach any sign, rope or other thing to any tree or shrub."

A request from Mrs. Norman Jedele to approve a fund drive for Channel 11 from March 11 to 20 was tabled because it was not clear what day the drive would be conducted.

Village engineer Frank Angelotti submitted forms for application for motor fuel tax funds for snow removal in the amount of $9,500. The application was signed by Mayor Ray Toft. Angelotti also submitted a tentative estimate of the cost of running water to the Rinear Road subdivision. There was discussion by the board of the possibility of annexing the subdivision. The board also discussed the possible extension of sewers to Henning Court.

Dave Nissen presented a request to undertake a project of eliminating several dead ends in the sewer system. The matter was turned over to the committee and engineer for study.

Tod Maplethorpe reported that downspouts from the building housing the Tot Shop ran into the sanitary sewer. During heavy rain, he said, it caused a back-up of water into the basement of the building next door, housing Hahn's Jewelry. The board instructed the clerk to write a letter to the owner of the building requesting that the downspout be disconnected from the sewer system.

Chairman of the Police Department Arthur Meierdick asked for board approval of strict enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting leaving cars overnight on village streets, interfering with snow removal. He announced that owners of such cars would be warned once, then the vehicle would be towed away at the owner's expense.

Some of the early history of the village was uncovered during the cleaning of Sequoit Creek. Vern Barnstable reported. Remains of an old flour mill located on the creek had to be removed, he said. Trustee Dave Nissen reported he salvaged an old walnut board from an early spillway, "just enough for a cribbage board."

The cleaning of Sequoit Creek is completed to Main St., Barnstable reported. Jack Sobey did an excellent job, he said.

Aim of the board is to complete cleaning of the creek throughout the village, returning it to full flow. The portions still to be cleaned are on private property, Barnstable said, and the next step is a blockage created by a bridge and improper culvert on the Leo Fox property.

Reminiscence of board members on early history of the creek brought out that at one time boats traversed the length of it, and Trustee Irv Walsh said that in his childhood they often skated to Silver Lake on the creek.

Tod Maplethorpe reported that there is less iron in the village water since the new well is in operation, although tests showed the water from that well to have a heavy concentration of iron. Mayor Toft said tests conducted at his home showed no iron content.

Lear Chairs Round Table

Ward A. Lear, Business teacher and Athletic Director at Antioch Community High School, has been named to chair a round-table discussion at the 68th Annual Convention of the North-Central Business Education Association, to be held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Detroit, Mich., Dec. 28 through 30.

Topic of the round-table will be "A New Image for Bookkeeping—Through New Procedures and Teaching Techniques." Cooperating with Mr. Lear on the panel will be David Muse of Indianapolis, Ind., and M. Lee Goddard of Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. Other speakers will be Joseph A. Lesak of Evanston and V. E. Breidenbaugh of Indiana State University, Terre Haute, Ind.

Mr. Lear has been teaching at Antioch High School for the past nine years and served for a number of years as Chairman of the Business Education Department. He received his Bachelor's degree from Indiana State Teachers College in 1949 and his Master's from the same institution in 1956.

H.S. Board Discusses Finances & Curriculum

The Antioch High School Board of Education employed Mrs. Jacqueline Horton to serve as secretary in the Student Personnel Department at the Wednesday night meeting of the board. Mrs. Horton replaces Mrs. Sharon Hayes, Lindenhurst, who resigned as of January 22.

The board authorized Mrs. Helen Nelson to re-invest $30,000 in U. S. Treasury bills due on Dec. 31 and March 21.

A letter from the Lake County Health Department was read, approving the school cafeteria kitchen after inspection. The Health Dept. said they found the "maintenance and management of the cafeteria very good." The only recommendation was that thermometers be installed in the refrigeration units to keep a check on the temperature maintained.

Roy Nelson, head of the Boys' Physical Education Department, reported to the board on the activities of his department. In addition to the report on the course of study, he discussed the Physical Fitness tests when they start school in the fall and again in the spring. A noticeable improvement in many cases is evident, he pointed out.

Mr. Nelson also showed films taken during the co-recreational gym classes, when boys and girls combine in such activities as volleyball.

The board was shown a film sound track developed by the Advanced Biology class on the "Dissection of a Rat." The dissection was performed by students, with commentary and explanation also by students.

The film will be kept to show to beginning Biology students. Films of this type in various subjects are being developed by the audio-visual director, with Fine Arts and Counseling next on the list. "The films will be excellent to show to PTA groups and others," Mr. Dittman said. "Slides taken from the various subjects will be coordinated to show eighth graders to give them an idea what to expect in High School."

Work has been progressing for some time on appraisals of school property for the purpose of seeking bids on a comprehensive insurance plan. The appraisal of the building and contents is completed, and the committee reported that they hoped to be able to complete the project so that bids could be taken and a contract for the insurance entered into by March 1.

Approval was received on a request for reimbursement under the National Education Act for equipment for mathematics and Foreign Language department. The Federal government reimburses about 34% of the cost.

were appointed to a committee to study the curriculum. The first meeting of the committee will be held January 4 and they hope to have a report ready for the February meeting.

The salary committee has been meeting with the Teachers' Welfare Group to study salaries. The final meeting of the committee will be held Jan. 6 and they hope to report to the board on Jan. 16.

The board authorized the administration to continue working with Grade Schools in the area on a cooperative approach to claiming funds under the new Education Act. However, they wish to be informed on specific projects or programs before giving approval.

C.C. Elects New Officers

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce recently elected a new slate of officers for 1966. The new officers were chosen by unanimous vote.

John F. Romer was chosen president; first vice president, Earl Stringer; second vice president, Raymond Jensen, and secretary-treasurer, Preston Reckers, Jr.

There are still four members of the Board of Directors to be elected. Ballots have been mailed to Chamber members for balloting on board members.

The next meeting of the Board of Directors will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 28, at the Chamber office. This will be the last meeting for the present board.

You can't drive a brand-new car downtown without meeting everybody you owe!

Ten-year-old Mark Maras and his brother, Scott, 7, present a donation to the Antioch Rescue Squad to squad member Robert Wilton. Mark and Scott made the money selling Christmas cards.

About 200 children attended a free movie at the Antioch Theater last Saturday, hosted by Antioch American Legion Post 748.

Simonsen In Hospital With Heart Attack

Edgar Simonsen, Superintendent of Public Works of Antioch, was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital Sunday afternoon, Dec. 10, after suffering a heart attack in his home.

Mr. Simonsen was taken to the hospital by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Mayor Ray Toft reported at Tuesday night's meeting of the village board that he had been informed that Edgar was improved to the point where he had been removed from the oxygen tent, and that he could now have visitors.

Name Lake County Heart Fund Chairman

Mrs. Garfield Leaf, 629 Judge Avenue, Waukegan, will be the 1966 Heart Fund Chairman of the Heart Association of Lake County.

The Heart Association of Lake County is a division of the Chicago Heart Association. Dr. William R. Darnall is president of the Lake County Council.

February is Heart Month. Mrs. Leaf will spearhead the 1966 Heart Fund Drive, which has a goal of $60,000. Last year, contributions totaled $55,612.

In 1965, Mrs. Leaf served as Waukegan Community Chairman for the Heart Fund Drive and coordinated Waukegan activities of the corps of volunteers visiting homes, businesses and industry seeking contributions for heart research and education.

Mrs. Leaf has been a Heart Fund volunteer for four years and is a member of the Waukegan Women's Club, Order of Eastern Star, Y.W.C.A., and Victory Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. She is the wife of County Clerk Garfield R. Leaf.

Sells Xmas Cards, Donates Money

Ten-year-old Mark Maras gave $30 to the Antioch Rescue Squad last week.

Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Maras of Antioch, made the money selling Christmas cards. He intended to give the money to the fund for the Lake County Museum of History, but, he says, "they had like a shutdown." So Mark decided to give the money to the Antioch Rescue Squad instead.

Students Give For Poor At Xmas Time

The young people at Antioch High School are brightening the Christmas season by supplying food baskets to some needy families in the area.

This is a yearly project of the Student Council, with the entire student body taking part by contributing money. This year, the students contributed a total of $146.

One half of the money will be spent for Christmas baskets, one-half for Easter Baskets. "Many organizations give baskets for Christmas, but few for Easter, so we thought the need might be greater then," says Harrison Brown, the faculty adviser of the Student Council.

The names of people who need the baskets are collected by the students from ministers and the Town Supervisor. Then the Student Council members select food for the baskets, pack them and deliver them on Dec. 24. The students have enough to buy four or five baskets this Christmas and a like number at Easter.

Rescue Squad Calls For Last Week

The Antioch Rescue Squad aided James Sherman, 21, 468 Lake St., Antioch, on Dec. 17.

Ralph Fields, 75, of North Ave., was taken to Victory Memorial Hospital Dec. 18. Lillian Forster, Antioch, was taken to Victory Memorial

Hearing On Lights At R.R. Crossing

Antioch village officials have finally been notified that a hearing will be held January 24 on the matter of warning lights at the crossing of the Soo Line Railroad on Ida Avenue.

Notice of the hearing before the Ill. Commerce Commission was sent to Mayor Ray Toft. The hearing will be at 10 a.m. in the office of the Commission in Chicago.

Plants in Sequoit Acres requested that the warning lights be installed for the protection of home-going workers about a year ago. Village officials first contacted the Commerce Commission on the matter at that time.

Complete Bridge At Lake Villa

The Lake Villa bridge is finally open.

Target date for the completion of the bridge has been extended several times, as various difficulties hindered the work. The last was the discovery that the steel framework which had been ordered was about two feet short. This necessitated re-ordering of the framework and halted work for some time.

Route 83, which has been closed south of Loon Lake, is now open.

Antioch Hospital by the squad on Dec. 20.

Mary Dusek, 6th Ave., California Subdivision, was taken to St. Therese Hospital Dec. 21.

AGS Board Hires Teacher

The Antioch Grade School board gave permission to the Calvary Baptist Church to use the Channel Lake School gym one night a week at the Tuesday night meeting of the board.

The board accepted the resignation of Barbara Neason, second grade teacher, as of June 9, 1966. Miss Neason plans to get married in July and move to Chicago.

Mrs. Mary Craig was employed by the board to teach sixth grade. She will replace Mrs. Isabel Smythe, who leaves on Jan. 3.

Mrs. Smythe is a retired teacher, and is allowed to teach 75 days of the year. The 75 days will be completed on Jan. 3, and she must be replaced.

Mrs. Mary Craig is in the process of earning her Masters degree at Southern University at Carbondale. Her husband, Norman Craig, teaches Electronics at Antioch High School.

Harland Ware, physical education teacher, reported to the board of the convention of the Illinois Association of Physical Education, Health and Recreation, held in Peoria, on Nov. 18, 19 and 20. Mr. Ware brought back many ideas for use in his department.

Norman Jedele, of Jedele & Cain, gave the board a full report on the financial condition of the school, and the anticipated income.

Clifford Houghton, a member of the committee seeking to fully utilize funds under the National Education Act, reported to the board on the anti-poverty funds now available.

The board gave the Church of God permission to use the gym of the Antioch Grade School on January 9 for a Round Robin basketball tourney.

Village Hall Gaily Decorated For Xmas

The Antioch Department of Public Works outdid itself in decorating the Village Hall for Christmas this year.

The Nativity Scene is placed at the base of the flag pole on the lawn in front of the village hall. Streamers of colored lights are strung from the top of the pole to the ground, forming the outline of a tree when lighted.

Across the street, even the Police Department has a gay and Christmasy look. The windows are decorated, and Christmas decorations arranged inside the window. Police Matron Garnett Oddsen tells us Fred Elam did a good share of the work on this project.

The parking meters in the business sections are all covered with paper bags for the last week before Christmas, to help contribute to the spirit of good will for Christmas shoppers. The first snow of the season has contributed a touch of white to the holiday spirit.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Now that Charles (Chuck) Percy has made official his candidacy for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator one wonders if the Illinois GOP will go ahead with its plans for a state convention in January.

Purpose of the convention was to slate candidates for state office and U. S. Senator who would have official party backing in the June primary and thus avoid the traditional spring bloodletting.

So dear to the hearts of Republicans.

Such a slate-making convention would seem to have little real use now that Percy has thrown his hat into the ring since there are only three other state offices to be filled and one of them, Superintendent of Public Instruction is already filled by Ray Pate who will no doubt be a candidate for re-election.

State Auditor Mike Howlett can also succeed himself and since there is no place else for him to go right now he can be expected to seek office again.

So this leaves only the State Treasurer race where William Scott is barred by law from seeking re-election. It hardly seems worthwhile to call a convention just to slate a candidate for this office, which, while important in the scheme of government, does not generate much political excitement.

Of course the Percy announcement does not close the door to other candidates and judging from past history there will probably be agitation for the convention just so the party leaders (?) can endorse some other candidate now that Percy is definitely an aspirant.

Members of the Lake County Board of Supervisors come in for a lot of criticism and some of it is deserved, but you really can't accuse them of trying to camouflage their maneuvers.

For instance, they made it transparently clear that the only reason they supported a delay in approving immediate completion of the courthouse complex was to give the Public Building Commission time to unseat August Cepon, Waukegan Supervisor, as chairman in favor of Taisto Aho, also of Waukegan.

As soon as this was accomplished Cuba Supervisor Joseph P. Welch in his best "Dutch uncle" tones suggested the delay was no longer necessary and it was alright to proceed with the project.

The board string-pullers did not reveal publicly just why they wanted to oust Cepon, but the maneuver certainly casts a cloud of suspicion on the new commission chairman and the feeling persists that the change involves more than just payment to Aho of a political debt incurred when he switched his vote from Cepon to Kenneth Henke in the Board Chairman contest last spring.

It is a little surprising that Warren Supervisor Robert Depke, who made the motion for the delay last month, would let himself be used in this manner, but the reason may come out if he becomes a candidate for County Treasurer.

It never hurts a county candidate to have Welch, Supervisor Guy Grinnell, of Libertyville, L. E. Murrie of Antioch, and other board powers in his corner.

It is rare that you find a newspaper column devoted to lauding politicians, public servants or civil employees, but William (Bill) Rentschler, the candy making columnist, came out with kind words towards the brethren recently.

Of course, Rentschler wasn't being completely objective since he made his reputation in political circles before turning to endeavors journalistic in this area, but still he made a point.

It has long been our feeling that many columnists sneer at politicians in print because they seem to feel it is expected of them, but on the social level they find much in common.

It is rare that a journalist will turn down an invitation from a politician to join him at the flowing cup and they do seem to enjoy each other's company.

Perhaps the censoring in print is an effort on the part of the reporter to maintain an air of objectivity.

And now it is time to extend our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year to both of you from all of us.

Thank you, Lou, and as the warden said to the parolee many happy returns to you, also.

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

Renewing old acquaintances and meeting new ones is one of the nicest things about a small town at Christmas. Walking down Main Street I met Mrs. Petty who expects David and his family home for the holidays. Tom and Marion Peckhouse will spend Christmas with their daughter, Liz Knourek and family, while the Blaine Rings have a special reason for celebrating, a new little granddaughter. Say many of our college set busy with last minute shopping. Paula Weiss, Frank Ehrhardt, Jane Edwards, Janet and Sue Polley, Don Olsen, Bill New, Harlene and Grace Young, The A. N. Berke family is spending their holidays in Florida as is Big John Teresi.

Pre-Christmas parties are many this year. The Ten-Tin Topplers and the Women's Classic League had their gathering this week. Frosted-Sno had their Saturday with Bill Ernst playing Santa.

A note of cheer to Edgar Simonsen, get well quick. Merry Christmas, dear friends. I hope Santa is good to you all.

Christmas? Bah, humbug! Scrooge coined this sparkling phrase, and subsequently was endowed with an excess of Christmas spirit. A good many men have echoed his words in the years since.

Christmas is beloved by women and children, but I suspect the celebration would dwindle distressingly if it were left to the men. And it isn't hard to figure out why.

When you're trying to stretch money, how many gifts are there that you can buy for a man that will really please him? Practically none. Ask a man what he wants for Christmas, and he'll either look bewildered or mention something like a new car.

Ask a woman, and she can name fifty items that will delight her, from scented bath oil to a mink coat. And she is Johnny-on-the-spot with sizes, color preference and what-have-you.

Consequently, Dad usually winds up with sixteen bottles of shaving lotion or sixteen pairs of socks. And, not believing in hypocrisy, he doesn't bother to look overjoyed.

Men have other good reasons for viewing Christmas with a jaundiced air. They get the bills. They don't enjoy shopping. And they resent moving chairs, etc., to put up a Christmas tree.

Of course, there are dozens of other reasons for acquiring a "Bah, humbug" attitude toward Christmas. Dick Burnette, M.C. at the meat counter at the A&P store, says it's for the birds. (He grinned while he said it, though.) And his reason is that he was born on Christmas. "So I never had a birthday party," he lamented.

Of course, those "unfortunate" souls who were born on Christmas (Harold Gaston's another) can take the attitude that the whole world is celebrating their birth. And they never have to

Letters to the Editor

13 December 1965

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am concerned that only about 43 per cent of our older people have so far enrolled in the "supplementary" health benefits under Medicare. This probably means that more than a half-million eligible persons in Illinois have not enrolled and do not understand this important opportunity.

Persons who will be 65 or over by the end of this year must complete their enrollment in the voluntary plan by March 31, 1966, or wait two years before again becoming eligible to enroll, at a higher monthly premium.

There are two separate parts to Medicare protection: Part A—the basic plan—pays for the costs of hospital, nursing home, and home health care and will be automatically available to nearly every person age 65 and over.

Part B of Medicare—the voluntary "supplementary" medical insurance plan—will pay for the costs of physicians' services, home health services, and many other medical and health services. But coverage under this plan is not automatic. The same people eligible for hospital benefits are eligible for Part B benefits, but to get them they must enroll in the plan and pay the low monthly insurance premium of $3. The Federal Government will contribute an equal amount of $3 for each enrollee. Present social security beneficiaries can simply have this premium deducted from the increased retirement benefits voted by the Congress in the Medicare bill.

I am confident that the vast majority of those who learn of this opportunity and think about it will enroll. Ninety percent of those responding to the first letter to present social security beneficiaries have enrolled in the voluntary medicare plan. A number of group health associations, such as Blue Cross and Blue Shield in Massachusetts, Maryland, New York, and Pennsylvania, have advised their members to enroll in Part B. The States are planning to provide this coverage for their public assistance recipients. At the very least, every person over age 65, or his or her

Peace & Good Will—Just Add A Drop

It's Christmas, 1965, and around the world people re-affirm their joy at the birth of a Saviour by presenting gifts to their loved ones. It's a season of joy and the hope of peace.

Yet in Viet Nam there is no peace. Nations still battle, and the people of the world hold their breath in fear that someone will set off the final holocaust. Almost 2,000 years have passed since the birth of the Saviour, and "peace on earth to men of good will" has not come to pass. And the people look for another Saviour, someone who can lead them out of all the problems of wars and bombs, sickness and poverty. Someone who can cure all their ills en masse.

Lacking such a leader, most of us throw up our hands in despair. What use is it to give $1. to feed the poor, when millions are starving? What use to take in one war orphan, when thousands are orphaned? What use to speak out against injustice with one small voice, when one voice is disregarded?

Peace and plenty is not magic that can be wrought by one person alone. Even the Christ Child didn't achieve that. It's the sum total of many people performing small acts of kindness, sharing what they have with the less fortunate, living good, honest lives, day by day. It's the unending struggle of each person against greed, and cruelty, and wrongdoing, and disease, and hunger.

Don't let the sheer magnitude of the suffering in the world discourage any small impulse to do good. If one child is spared one day of hunger because of you, the world is better. If every person in the world, who could afford to feed one hungry child, there would be no hungry children.

Some day, perhaps, the message of Christmas will really be heeded, and the flood of good will around the world will bring "peace on earth to men of good will."

A flood is made up of many drops of water.

Compare Finances of Municipal Governments

How much is a shopping center worth to a town?

One answer to the question is contained in a summary of Municipal Finance in Illinois for 1964.

Oak Brook, in DuPage County, has a large shopping center. The village has a population of 1,647 and collected $324,228 in sales taxes. Citizens of the community paid only $5,834. in property taxes for village government.

Contrast this with the village of Altamont, with a population of 1,656, comparable in size to Oak Brook. Altamont collected $18,382. in sales taxes. The citizens of Altamont paid $22,849. in property taxes.

It would appear that a shopping center is a boon to the resident of a town, in saving him taxes for village government.

The summary of Municipal Finance was compiled by Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts. It summarizes audit reports of city and village income and expenditures throughout the state.

The summary is sent to city and village finance officers, and allows them to compare their own town to other towns in the state of comparable size.

Sequoits Drop Game As Three Foul Out

Warren's Blue Devils had to come from behind in the last 2 1/2 minutes of play Friday night to keep their hold on first place in the Northwest Suburban basketball race. The Blue Devils barely managed to edge a hustling Antioch quint 88 to 85 on the Sequoits' court.

The Sequoits played the closing minutes of the game with three of their regulars, Tom Blackman, Mike Sterbenz and Don Zeman, sitting on the bench. All were whistled out on fouls.

It looked like Warren was going to have a pretty easy time of it as they jumped out to a 21 to 13 first quarter lead. The Sequoits rallied in the second period, however, and led by the hot shooting of Mike Kelly, they blistered the nets for 31 points and a five point halftime lead.

Kelly hit seven in a row at one point in the quarter and added two free-throws to give the Sequoits their 4-30 half-time margin.

The Sequoits maintained control throughout the third quarter and were still leading 68 to 65 at the beginning of the final stanza. With both Kelly and Sterbenz gone on fouls the Sequoits pushed their lead to 77 to 73 with 3:26 left when Tom Blackman became the third Sequoits to be banished via fouls.

The luckless Sequoits hit a cold spell at this juncture and they had a four point lead for the last time when reserve forward Bob Schenk hit a jump shot with 2:46 to play.

Consecutive baskets by Raleigh Galgan and Rick Filipowicz and another free throw by Galgan gave the Blue Devils an 80 to 79 lead with 1:27 left. Marty Zupan put the Warren quint on top to stay with a three point play as Don Zeman became the fourth Sequoits to foul out.

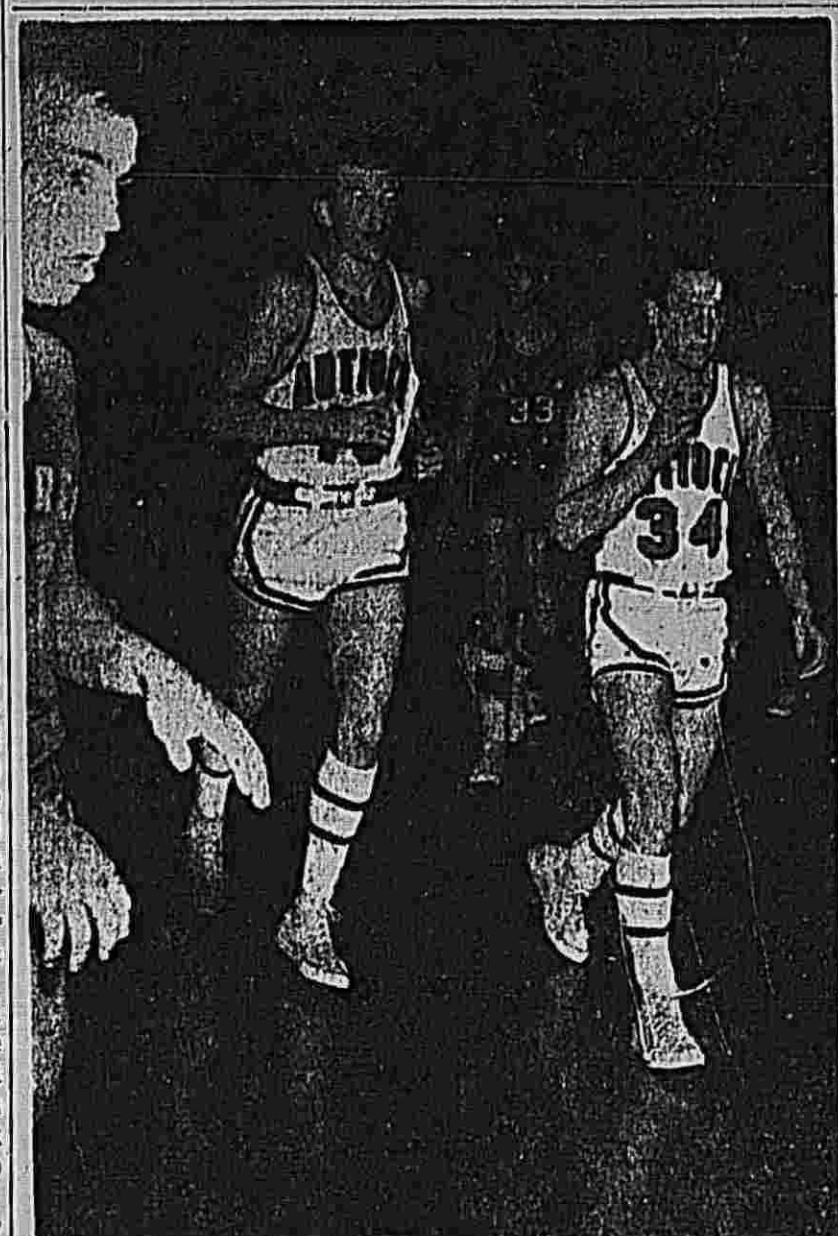

Two free throws by Zupan made it 85 to 79 but Schenk brought it to 86 to 83 with a jump shot and two free throws. Two charity tosses by Galgan with six seconds left put the game out of reach for the Sequoits.

Antioch, led by Tyrone Walls and Mike Sterbenz, out-rebounded the taller Blue Devils 46-33. Warren had a hot night from the field, getting 34 of 65 attempts for 52%. The Sequoits cashed 31 of 76 for 41%.

Sterbenz and Kelly led the scoring for the Sequoits with 19 points each while Filipowicz took game honors

NICC Ice Derby To Be Jan. 9

The annual Ice Fishing Derby sponsored by the Northern Illinois Conservation Club will be held Sunday, January 9, this year.

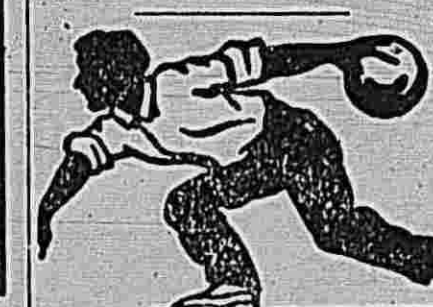

This is the fifth year the Club has sponsored the derby. Ice-fishing enthusiasts come from several neighboring counties to take part in the sport.

The Derby will be held at its usual location, the south end of Channel Lake, three miles west of Antioch on Highway 173. Fishing will start at 9 a.m. and end at 4 p.m.

At a special meeting, NICC president Dick Waters appointed committees to get the show going. They include Master of Ceremonies, William Brook; Rules, Les Chinn; Headquarters, Dr. George W. Jensen; Special Events, Norman Outinen; Parking, Walter Monhardt; Refreshments, William Pratt and Publicity, Harry II. Stern.

Judges will be Bruce Muench, State Fisheries Biologist; Gregg Tichasek, State Fisheries Biologist; den, and Harry Novotny, Enforcement Officer, Department of Conservation.

All proceeds of the Derby go to promote the Club's work in conservation and youth education.

Arrest Hunters For Firearms Violations

Arrests have been made for violations of regulations governing the transportation of firearms in cars, William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said last week.

"According to the Game Code, all firearms must be in a case and unloaded when carried in a vehicle," Lodge explained. "Formerly, guns did not have to be encased if they were broken down, but road shooters learned to carry shotguns or rifles broken down and to assemble them in seconds when a rabbit, pheasant or deer was seen on the road. Now all firearms must be unloaded and in a case when carried in an automobile or on a tractor."

"One reason for the law is to discourage road shooters," Lodge said. "But another, and more important reason, is that loaded guns in vehicles are dangerous. Almost every year one or two hunters are killed when a gun fires in a car."

All conservation officers have been instructed to issue citations to hunters who violate the regulations concerning the transportation of firearms.

Local Teachers To Attend IEA Meeting

The annual meeting of the Illinois Education Association will be held December 28 to 30 in the Sherman House, Chicago. Several delegates from the Antioch area will be attending.

The IEA Representative Assembly, consisting of 828 delegates representing approximately 69,000 members in 22 regional divisions and hundreds of local sections, and associations, will consider basic problems in school finance, state revenue reform, pupil-teacher welfare items, and other preparation of the association legislative platform.

Those attending from the Antioch area are Mrs. Lucille Whitacre, Antioch Grade School, chairman of the committee on Association Membership and Finance; Katherine Avery, Rte. 2, and Mrs. Virginia Haass, 143 Lakewood drive.

Forensics Contest

Students at Salem Central High School are competing in eight categories of the Forensics program. The contest will be held at Salem Central on February 2.

Students who win at this contest will go on to the Sub-District contest at Waterford Thursday, Feb. 17.

PRAYER FOR CHRISTMAS

I want so much for Christmas

But I stop to think of others

Less fortunate than me or you.

So bring warm clothes to the cold ones.

And much more joy to the old ones.

Freedom to the enslaved ones—

And goodness to the deprived ones.

Please bring hope to the weary ones.

And treasure to the poor ones—

And the Christ Child to the lost ones!

I want so much for Christmas

But this would please me best

Just answer the dreams of others

Then I will have been blessed.

By George E. Hobson

P.S. Thought perhaps you would like to put this in the Antioch News. Liked the poem so thought I would share it with others.

Mrs. Bernice Lassen Rte. 4, Box 324A Antioch, Ill.

Dear Editor:

I was going to write an article about how wonderful Christmas is but my joy is gone. I don't mind that I am laid up again. I don't mind the pain. I got a leaflet in my mail saying Jesus sends each one a Cross but never an inch too long or an ounce too heavy, but I can't bear what happened now. The Superior Sister upon whom I depend so much in my illness, the one I love so very, very much and need so—this Sister is being sent to South America next month. Now I think I will die. My heart is broken. When I get so ill I won't have my dear Sister to help me. Now you see my Christmas will be a very, very sad one.

I wrote this on kindness long ago—I am sending it to you so you could see how much the Sister means to me.

KINDNESS

Kindness means a Sister who gives up her precious time and visits a sick little girl even if it is often during many years.

Kindness means a Sister holding the sick little girl's hand and kneeling by her bed eases the pain and fears. Yes, kindness means Sister whose very presence is medicine and whose smile lifts a little girl's heart.

Kindness means Sister Claire Marie of Spring Grove, Illinois.

I hope you and all your readers and nice people at Antioch News have a Happy Holy Christmas even though mine is one filled with tears.

Your little friend,

Volanda Maria Holtzee

QUESTIONS ON VIET NAM

The recent rash of young men(?) publicly burning their draft cards (with full, nationwide coverage by our press, radio, and television) has upset and distressed many good, solid, patriotic citizens. They have expressed their righteous indignation (as have many veterans organizations) in similar wording. For example, "We denounce the young punks burning their draft cards, and announce our full support of the administration policy in Viet Nam!"

I am in full accord with the denouncers of "draft card arson," but the part about "support of administration policy" gives me pause! Just what is administration policy in Viet Nam? Is the State Department to remain in control of the military effort in Viet Nam? Or, as in Korea, are our troops under United Nations command, with a Soviet Communist General reviewing all our battle plans before they are sent on to our U. S. Commanders in the field?

Isn't it about time the administration used Chiang Kai-shek's half-million man army against the Viet Cong Communists? Why has the U. S. Navy not set up a blockade to stop Soviet Communist ships from bringing arms, ammunition, and other war material to the North Vietnamese Viet Cong?

Isn't it about time Congress formally declares war on North Viet Nam? Or are administration leaders trying (as in Korea) for another negotiated stalemate (which will ultimately result in another victory for the Communists)?

These questions should be answered before any individual or organization gives "blank-check endorsement" to administration policy on Viet Nam.

Our soft-no-win policy is sacrificing American servicemen's lives needlessly! (over 1,335 killed in action, over 300 wounded, since U. S. entry).

It is time we use the Free Nationalist Chinese, South Koreans, and all others who have offered their help, so our men need not do all the fighting—and dying—so a Victory will belong to all freedom-loving people!

It is now time to call for a vigorously executed advance in both military and psychological warfare; that a complete victory may be won over the Communists in Viet Nam and elsewhere!

Where the Boys Are

Airman 2nd Class Robert Randall is over in England, about 40 miles from London, with the airforce. He's been in service 2 years, overseas 13 months, and has another two years to go. He finished his training and is in Maintenance, servicing jets.

Pvt. Guy Beyer is in Santo Domingo with the 82nd Airborne Division. He's been there for the past two months. Jumping out of an airplane and floating down with a parachute is one of the ways he travels. He writes home he likes it. He hopes to be home for his sister Linda's wedding Feb. 12.

Pfc. Bill Brendel was discharged Dec. 15, from Fort Hamilton. He was in the army four years, three of them in Germany. His trip back on the boat took ten days.

Although Pfc. Ed Bernau won't be home for Christmas knowing he is on the way will make both him and his parents happy. A year and a half of his years in service was over in Germany. Ed is scheduled to leave Baumholder on Dec. 18, so he should be home by New Year's, for sure.

Airman 1st Class Rolf Westberg is in Puerto Rico. He is a mechanic on planes. He has been in the airforce three years and should be discharged next August. He is going to school, and should have a year and a half college credits by then.

Airman 2nd Class John Speigler is stationed at Turner Air Force Base in Albany, Georgia. He has been in service almost two years, and has two more to go. He works in the supply office. He was home last June and will be home from Dec. 22 until Jan. 4. His mother is planning a family reunion for Christmas. Several of her sisters and brothers are planning to come from out of state.

Lance Corporal Tony Root has been stationed at Cherry Point, North Carolina since last May, when he came back from overseas. He is in radar and electronics. He was in service three years last Sept. His mother is hoping he will surprise her and come home for Christmas.

Hospital Corpsman Robert Rihimaki has been on the aircraft carrier Wasp but missed out on the excitement of picking up of the Gemini 6 and Gemini 7, because he was making a little news of his own. He and Kathleen Cook of Malden, Mass., were married Dec. 4 in Revere, Mass. His ship left two days before the wedding. When the Wasp comes back to port, he will go back onto it. Wives and girl friends are being invited aboard ship for a Christmas party.

His brother, Airman 2nd Class Roy Rihimaki, is in Istanbul, Turkey. Roy enlisted in the Airforce right after he graduated from Antioch High School in June 1963. He has been there since last August and expects to be there until Feb. 1967. His mother just received a Christmas box for the family and slides of his side trips.

Not only are our boys in service but our young ladies, too. Pat Wallock is Airman 3rd Class at Montgomery, Ala., at Maxwell Air Force Base. She enlisted in Oct. 1964, after graduating from Grayslake High School in June. She took her basic at Lackland, Texas, and specialist training at Amarillo, Texas. She works in the office as Administration specialist. Pat was home for two weeks in November when her mother was operated on.

Pvt. Ray Partipilo entered service last June, got his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. When he was home on leave in Sept. he married Sandra Slater of Kenosha, Wis. He is back at Fort Knox going to communications school. He and his wife have an apartment down there.

Aviation Electronics Technician Airman James Horwath, USN, enlisted in the Naval Air Reserves last March, had nine months training at the Naval Training Center in Memphis, Tenn. He studied the use and maintenance of airborne communication and navigation equipment. He came home Nov. 12, and is scheduled to go to Yuma, Arizona, in January for two weeks of training.

Sp. 4 Tom Kaufmann has been over in Schweinfurt, Germany, about a year. He will be in the army two years in February, and has another year to serve. He is an MP in the office.

Charmglow Gives Flag To Girl Scouts

Charmglow Products of Antioch and Bristol last week donated a flagpole and American flag to the Lakeview Council of the Girl Scouts. The flagpole will be erected at Camp Morrison, on Golden Road south of Antioch. It will replace one destroyed by vandals last fall.

The Camp is used by Girl Scouts throughout the Lakeview Council, including Antioch's Sequoyah Neighborhood.

The flagpole and flag were accepted by Mrs. Walter McCleod, Lake Villa, for the Scouts.

Sp. 4 Tom Kaufmann has been over in Schweinfurt, Germany, about a year. He will be in the army two years in February, and has another year to serve. He is an MP in the office.

Greetings From Masaji

Masaji Okubo, the Japanese foreign exchange student who was attending Antioch High School last year as an AFS student, sends greetings to all his friends in the area, through his American father, Pastor Harold Nelson of St. Mark Lutheran Church. Masaji is studying for his exams coming up in January. He hopes to come back here some day as an interpreter.

Judi Rolin on Telephone Hour

Not only were Judi Rolin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rolin, her sisters and brothers watching her on TV Sunday night on the Bell Telephone Hour, but her Aunt Mary Jane Rolin and her family, all of Venetian Village.

Local Families Attend Convention

Many families from the Antioch area will be attending the convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Chicago from Dec. 24 to 26.

David Mitchell, public speaking instructor of the Antioch congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, 894 Main St., considers a Bible text with three of his young students. Left to right, Dennis Maki, 12; Ralph Dowell, 12; Mitchell, and Tim Willett, 15.

Her brother, Kenneth Darold, is 19 months old. Grandparents are Mrs. Florence Staggard of Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Archer of Wadsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Vos of Cedar Ave., Lake Villa, welcomed their fourth child at St. Therese Hospital on Dec. 10. Wendy Ann tipped the scales at 7 pounds, 14 ounces.

The other Vos children are Daniel, Wynn and Jill. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Martin of Burnette Ave., Lake Villa, and Mr. and Mrs. Roman B. Vos of Main St., Antioch.

4-H Club News

Claudine DuMelle was elected president of the Lindenhurst Daisies 4-H Club at a recent meeting. Linda Bywell, secretary; Donna Anderson, vice president and reporter; Kathy Jones, recreation chairman; and Jean Bywell, junior leader. Mrs. Andrew (Edith) Westberg is the leader of this high school group.

The club meets the first Thursday of every month, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the homes of the different girls. Their projects are "Yeast Breads" and "Meats in Your Meals."

Garden Club

Donates Wreaths The members of the Lindenhurst Garden Club held a workshop at the home of Mrs. Mary Loblillo last Tuesday. As usual, they made wreaths for B. J. Hooper School and the Civic Center.

Cub Scouts of Pack 84 held their Christmas party last Thursday at the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

Mrs. Dorothy Kovanda's Den 2 opened the meeting and then led the audience in the singing of Christmas carols.

Scoutmaster Jim Hartwig brought his Boy Scout troop for the "Bridging" ceremony, of the boys passing from Webelos into Boy Scouts. The scouts made the bridge themselves. The boys leaving Webelos are John Bittner, Kenny Boucos, Richard Myslinski, David Bukas and Bob Wismer. Hartwig was their instructor.

Mrs. Nancy Kieffner's Den 1 presented a skit entitled "The Night Before Christmas."

Mrs. Hilda Huntington's Den 3 also presented a skit.

Those becoming Bobcats were Dale Mindak, Ed Halvey, Danny Stahl and Tmi Jagielski.

David Mindak and Richard Fisher received their Wolf badges and Dan Huntington his gold arrow. Larry Piefer and Chuckie Kieffner were awarded their one year pins.

Mrs. Zersen's Den 4 had planned to enact "Night Before Christmas", but since Den 1 presented it, they improvised at the last minute and sang "Silent Night", having the audience join in. A "Mitten Tree" that the Scouts dressed, will be given to the needy in the area.

Mrs. Zersen's Den 4 received the traveling Cub Scout doll for having the most friends and relatives present.

Santa distributed the gifts that the boys brought for their gift exchange. All the guest children were given a gift wrapped roll of candy by Santa Claus.

Refreshments were served after the program.

Birthdays

When wishing these folks a "Merry Christmas" you also may add "and a happy birthday." Connie Rae Hunt, Dale Mindak, Neal Pischke, and second child Dec. 11 at Victory Memorial Hospital. Joan Marie weighed 8 pounds, 4 ounces at birth.

Highlights of the assembly will be a Ministry school, and a baptismal program on December 25.

Keep Xmas Merry, Drive Carefully

An emphatic plea for extreme caution on the part of both drivers and pedestrians during the Christmas holiday period has been voiced by Gerald W. Cavanagh, president of the Chicago Motor Club.

"Most of us fail to realize that the Christmas holiday period is the most dangerous time of the year for anyone who is walking or driving," he said. "The holiday season is wonderful, but the best way to preserve the Christmas spirit is to take the responsibility for courteous and careful driving and walking."

Cavanagh pointed out that most traffic accidents occur when the usually careful driver takes his mind off his driving—when he takes that one unnecessary chance.

The motor club president urged pedestrians to obey traffic signals and cross only at intersections. He asked motorists to be alert for slippery spots; to signal well in advance of stopping or turning; to keep a safe distance behind the car ahead; to be considerate of pedestrians; and to drive at a speed suitable for existing conditions. Cavanagh said motor club records show that the period from Christmas through New Year's Day is an extremely hazardous one, with Christmas Eve, particularly dangerous for motorists and pedestrians.

Summer Jobs For Students With Govt.

Senator Paul Douglas has announced that students who wish to apply for jobs with Federal government must complete and mail an application form Jan. 3, 1966.

A competitive examination will be held by the Civil Service Commission in late January or early February. The student can obtain Form 5000-AB from the Post Office for his application.

Jobs in the post offices will be filled by another competitive examination and students interested in these jobs should get in touch with their local postmaster.

"WHAT HAS CHRISTMAS MEANT TO ME?"

Holidays come and go, but the light of Christmas must grow in our lives every day. If you've discovered a little more of the great spiritual meaning of Christmas, it could be the discovery of one's real purpose and spiritual identity—even the beginning of a new life.

work on their birthday. CHRISTMAS AT THE POST OFFICE: The postal employees are getting that weary look, but try hard to keep a smile. Said Harry Brehen last week (looking like he needed a couple of days in bed) "Hey, have you seen our new stamp-licker? Chester, show her our new stamp-licker." Brehen stationed himself behind Golonka. Golonka held a strip of stamps, rapped Brehen sharply in the stomach with his elbow, and Brehen's tongue popped out in pain, licking the stamps. Keep laughing, fellows.

Things I Wouldn't Know If I Didn't Read: You can now buy a hamburger untouched by human hands (a beautiful thought at this season of flu and viruses. Don't you just love a waitress who tenderly arranges your sandwich on the plate, remarking, "I have a temperature of 102 degrees." The doctor says I should be home in bed!").

Anyway, the untouched food is served by automation. Press a button, zip, the machine cooks up a frozen hamburger and serves it to you. Unfortunately, the only such drive-in to date is in Levittown, N. Y., and I rarely pass that way.

HEALTH INSURANCE: There are nine doctors on the 16-man Council which will help shape policies for administration of the Medicare program. Smart man, that Johnson. Now how can the AMA blame the President if the plan doesn't work out right?

DEATH NOTICES

MARY E. CHOPE

Mrs. Mary E. Chope, 92 years old of Lake Villa, Ill., passed away at 1:45 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 20, in the Waukegan Pavilion Nursing Home after a 4 day illness. She was born Feb. 10, 1873 at Rosecrans in Newport Township and resided in Newport Township most of her life. She had attended the Millburn Congregational Church. Mrs. Chope and her husband, John C. Chope had operated farms in the Millburn area for many years. She was preceded in death by her husband on Oct. 9, 1948, and by a son, Carl J. Chope, on July 29, 1959.

Survivors are one son, Daniel Chope, Salem, Wis., two daughters, Mrs. Dennis (Mabel E. Shea) Waukegan, Mrs. Louis F. (Irene) Schwicht, Lake Villa, 9 grandchildren, and 20 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Strang Funeral Home at Antioch. Rev. L. H. Messersmith, of the Millburn Congregational Church officiated at the service. Interment was in Warren Cemetery near Gurnee.

MICHAEL HALKO

Mr. Michael Halko, 45 years old of 216 North St., Silver Lake, Wis., passed away at 9:25 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 18 at Milwaukee County General Hospital in Milwaukee, Wis., from injuries received in an automobile accident on Wisconsin Ave. in Milwaukee. He was born March 21, 1920, at Indiana Harbor, Indiana, and had resided in Chicago before moving to Silver Lake nine years ago. He held membership in the Wilmet Methodist Church at Wilmet, Wis. He had served in the Seabees during W.W. II. He had been working for the American Weather Co. in Chicago as a truck driver.

Survivors are his wife Marie (nee Arruda) Halko—three sons, Pfc. George Halko, with the army in Korea, Larry and Jeffrey at home; two daughters, Paula and Laura Halko, both at home; two brothers, George Halko, Fox Lake, and Roy Halko, Elmwood Park; six sisters, Mrs. Marie Kristof, Chicago, Mrs. Ann Busch, Chicago, Mrs. Pauline Bergmann, Chicago, Mrs. Mildred Gurawitz, Munster, Ind., Mrs. Elaine Mirok, Chicago, and Mrs. Betty Poli, Roselle, Ill.

He was preceded in death by a brother, John, on Dec. 8, 1961.

Funeral services are being held at 1:00 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch. Rev. David Kruse of the Wilmet Methodist Church officiating at the services. Interment will be in Salem Mound Cemetery near Silver Lake.

A SPECIAL LETTER

FOR THOSE CHILDREN WHO DIDN'T GET TO TALK TO ME ON THE TELEPHONE

Santa's Workshop North Pole December

I'm so glad you called me the other day. It always makes me happy to hear from my little friends.

Mrs. Santa Claus and all my elves are very busy here at the North Pole now. They are working late every night making toys for children all over the world.

We may not be able to bring you everything you asked for but we are all trying very very hard.

Be very good now, go to sleep early Christmas Eve so my reindeer and I can visit you first.

Merry Christmas

A large, ornate initial 'JY' in a black and white woodcut style. The 'J' and 'Y' are highly decorative, with the 'J' having a long, flowing tail. Between the two letters is a circular clock face with a starburst design in the center. The clock face is surrounded by a wreath of leaves and berries. At the bottom of the clock face, there is a small figure of a person, possibly a cherub or a child, standing on a pedestal. The entire initial is set against a background of small stars.

The firemen of Lake County have made up a list of some simple rules to help people avoid the danger of fire at the holiday season.

The Firemen's Association points out that they have no way of knowing whether their words of warning and work for Fire Prevention is heeded by the people. They only know when the warnings are not acted on, by being called to a fire. However, they continue to try to get across to the public the dangers of carelessness.

Following are some hints compiled by the firemen for a safe and happy holiday.

1. Purchase only fresh, green trees and keep them watered at all times, before and after decorating. Check the water level frequently.
2. If you use an artificial metal tree, do not attempt to put strings of lights on it. Use only properly located

3. Never use frayed or patched electric cords of any kind, throw them out.

4. When placing lights on a fresh tree, do not allow the bulb to touch the needles and allow clearance all around the bulb, especially above the bulb.
 5. Never leave any tree with the lights turned on during the absence of all adults.
 6. Remove the tree promptly after the holiday.
 7. Do not allow candles near the tree, nor allow the tree near the fireplace.
 8. Use only flameproof decorations, especially near candles and fireplaces.
 9. Do not overload electrical circuits with decorations.
 10. Clean up discarded paper and boxes promptly.
- A DRY EVERGREEN TREE CAN BE REDUCED TO ASHES IN JUST 60 SECONDS BY FIRE.

Here are some hints to save time and cut work in the busy hours before a holiday party.

RECIPE FOR CHOCOLATE FUDGE
4½ cups sugar
1½ lb. butter or margarine (1 stick and 1/3 of another)

4½ cups sugar

- 4/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 lb. butter or margarine (1 stick and 1/3 of another)
1 tall can evaporated milk
Mix well in a 3 or 4 quart heavy pan and bring to a boil and boil 5 minutes (rolling boil). Remove from fire, add 4 packages semi-sweet chocolate chips and a 7 1/2 oz. jar marshmallow fluff. Beat with an electric beater 2 or 3 minutes. Add 2 teaspoons vanilla and 1 1/2 cups walnuts. Pour into a buttered tin and chill.
Best if kept in tight container in refrigerator.
Makes about 5 pounds of candy.

Holiday festivities for many of the women of Lake Forest this year starts with a check list for the children of the Grove School for the handicapped.

Mrs. Richard Lydy and a group known as The Grove School Bridge Club, have made their Christmas gift the restoration of the library in the classroom building. The club has raised the money, selected authentic furniture, and worked on curtains and drapes.

A Christmas dinner for the children was planned on Wednesday, December 22, and given by the volunteers from the American Red Cross, Lake County unit, in the presence of the tree given to the children by The Woodland Garden Club. The decorations for the tree are all made by the children.

Girl Scouts under the leadership of Mrs. John Metcalf presented an original puppet show for the children on Monday, Dec. 13. Waukegan Girl Scout Cadette Troop No. 167, led by Mrs. Donald Asher, and Mrs. James McCluskey, gave a party for the children of the Saturday Recreation program Dec. 18.

The men of the Highland Park Rotary Club, led by Wm. Cortesi and Robert Barnard, invited 15 of the children with their teachers to attend the club's annual Christmas party at the Moraine Hotel Monday, Dec. 20. Rotarians and their children exchanged gifts and Santa Claus made a flying trip to the lake front hotel for the children.

On Dec. 17, the Grove children put on their own program for their parents and friends. Under the leadership of Mrs. Irene Paeth of Lake Forest, the upper grades concocted an original program arranged around the carols familiar to all.

A most unusual feature of the holiday season is The Grove School's fourth annual Hannukah program on Tuesday, Dec. 21. Each year the children celebrate the festival of lights of the Jewish tradition that coincides with the Christmas season. This year Rabbi Agres of Aurora will tell the story and lead the children in the candle lighting ceremony.

The women of the ABDO auxiliary from Morton Grove under the leadership of Mrs. Phyllis Rappin, chairman, the ceremony, IHc-ondWS gave a party following the ceremony, with traditional cookies and gifts for the children.

Grandparents Treasure Most Tots "Made It Myself" Gifts

Gifts from the grandchildren that say, "I made it myself," are the ones that brighten the holiday season most for Grandma and Grandpa.

And the child who learns early that creating his own gifts gives special meaning to the holiday, has also learned the real spirit of Christmas giving.

Original art work from kindergartners and grade schoolers is always a welcome gift for fond grandparents, and it has the added value of being a project which most children enjoy.

Any youngster old enough to handle a pair of blunt-end scissors and a pencil can create an original collage for Christmas gift-giving. Besides the scissors and pencil, all he'll need is adhesive covering in various colors and patterns, a light weight piece of cardboard and his imagination.

Mother and youngster together can choose the subject. Does Grandma have a cat? Does Grandpa like boats? Would both like portraits of themselves as seen through the eyes of an eight-year-old? Discuss several ideas, covering the interests of both giver and receiver.

Then have the child trace his picture on a piece of paper before deciding on the color combination. A happy pre-holiday excursion will be a trip to the store with mother to pick out the Marvalon adhesive covering colors or patterns that match his artistic efforts.

Each section of the original drawing should be cut out, then traced on the Marvalon backing sheet. Before removing the backing, let him position his picture on cardboard. Section by section, he can then remove the backing and press the adhesive covering in place. The final touch, of course, is adding his signature to the masterpiece.

And a special finishing touch from Mother might be an inexpensive picture frame perhaps spray painted to match the color combination of the small fry art.

Easy-to-use adhesive covering eliminates paste pot smudges on art work, youngster, and furniture, keeping mom's temper at an even keel during the holiday season. And, on Christmas day, the pride of your "did-it-myself" grade schooler will be matched only by that of the delighted recipient.

Xmas Carols Ancient Custom

Christmas caroling is almost as old as Christmas itself—though not in the form we know it.

An early historian wrote that in the Second Century the bishop of Rome urged his people to sing "in celebration of our Lord." Christmas hymns go back to the Fifth Century, when most of them were written in Latin.

St. Francis of Assisi is regarded as the father of caroling as we know it, according to World Book Encyclopedia. In 1223, St. Francis placed a creche (miniature Nativity scene), in a hermitage in Greccio, Italy.

After this many churches began displaying the Nativity scene at Christmas, and soon the people began acting out the Christmas story. The actors composed carols to sing with their Nativity plays and after the plays would stroll down the street, singing. In that way, street caroling was born.

Joseph Mohr, a pastor in Oberndorf, Austria, composed "Stille Nacht," or "Silent Night," on Christmas Eve, 1818. Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster and organist, composed the music the same day, and the hymn was sung for the first time at Midnight Mass that night.

Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, wrote, "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing!" in 1739. Phillips Brooks, a noted Boston clergyman, wrote "O Little Town of Bethlehem" in 1868 after visiting Bethlehem.

Though not a carol, Handel's "Messiah" is a Christmas tradition. It first was performed in Dublin in 1742. "Joy to the World," written in the early 18th Century by Isaac Watts, was set to the music of a segment of the "Messiah." "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," written in 1703 by Nahum Tate, was set to music taken from "Siroe," an opera by Handel.

No one knows who wrote "The First Noel." It first appeared in print in 1833 in a book called "Christmas Carols Ancient and Modern," and is believed to be very old.

The author of "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen," also is unknown, but he lived before Shakespeare.

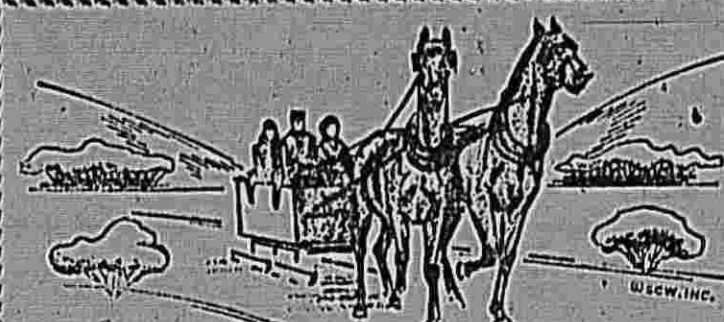

So if you should go caroling this Christmas season, think of other carolers of years gone by, of the people of Charles Dickens' time in their beaver hats and cut-away coats, of English villagers in hose and jerkin, of good St. Francis, and of the priests of the time of the Christian Roman Empire who before caroling as we know it existed, sang "in celebration of our Lord."

Salem FHA Girls Hold Xmas Party

The annual Christmas party given for a number of girls from Southern Colony was held on Tuesday afternoon at Salem Central High. The party is arranged by the members of the FHA organization of the school. Gifts are wrapped by the girls, and the cookies baked by them.

Skits, singing and other entertainment is prepared by special groups.

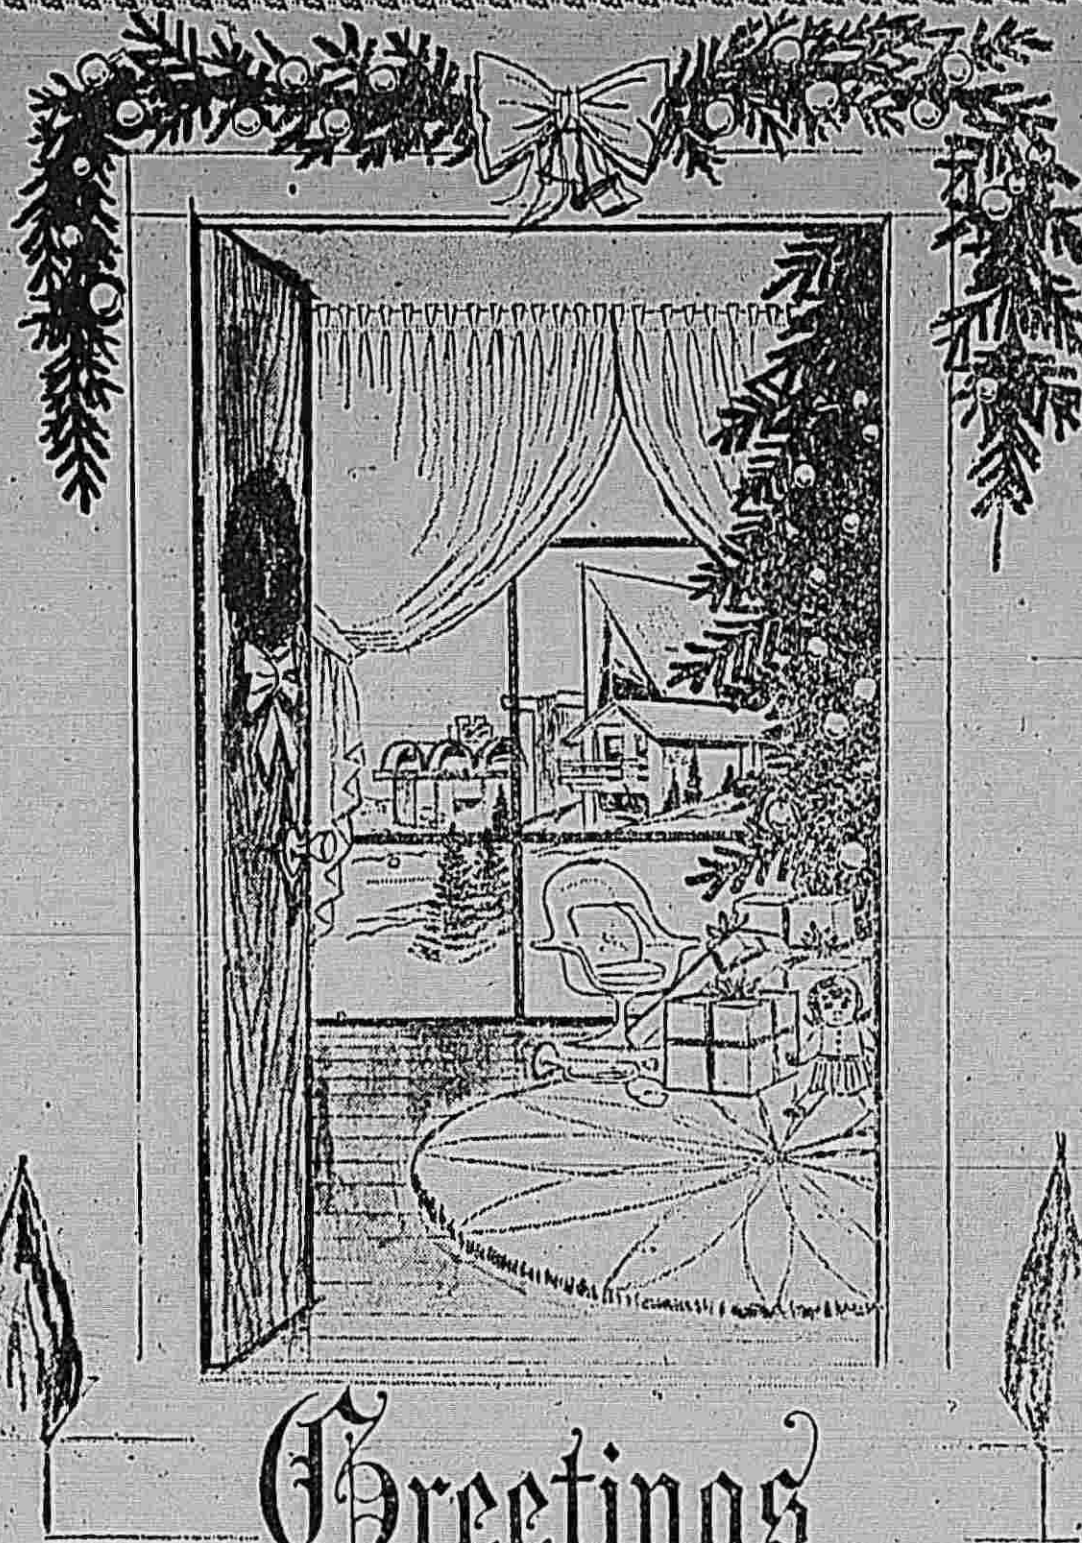

Mrs. Mary Pully and Mrs. Donna Cowey are advisers to FHA.

Gang Enjoys Trimming Tree 'From Scratch'

A tree-trimming party with a new twist—making the trimmings—can earn you the title of favorite Christmas hostess.

It will be one of the easiest parties you've ever given, one you're sure to enjoy as much as your guests.

Send or phone invitations and plan refreshments early, so you can start the intriguing work of collecting the necessary props to make your party a success.

You'll want paste and glue, of course, along with construction paper, cardboard, scraps of felt, sequins, old buttons, and perhaps a few jars of glitter. Search your sewing basket for left-over rick-rack, ribbon and bright pieces of cloth. Add to your growing box of ingredients any pretty Christmas cord or scraps of yarn. Include the covers of Christmas magazines, old Christmas cards, and bits of holiday wrapping paper.

Save the center cores from rolls of bathroom tissue and be sure your cupboard includes double layer paper towels in white, pink, yellow and aqua.

Things you'll probably need to buy are pipe cleaners, styrofoam balls about one inch in diameter, straight pins, poster paint and brushes. At the last minute, get popcorn, string and cranberries to add contrast and color, if you like.

About all that's left to your preparations now is to borrow several pairs of scissors and to find aprons for each of your guests.

The ingredient they bring to the party is their creative talent for devising decorative tree ornaments from the materials you've collected. From a Delsey tissue core can emerge a toy soldier, an angel, a candle or a cannon, with the aid of paint, construction paper and glitter. Or the core can be cut along the spiral lines and pulled out to become a modern, swinging ornament. Or cover the cores with material and trimmings for a cylindrical ornament. Just punch holes in the sides of the tubes and insert cord or yarn for hanging.

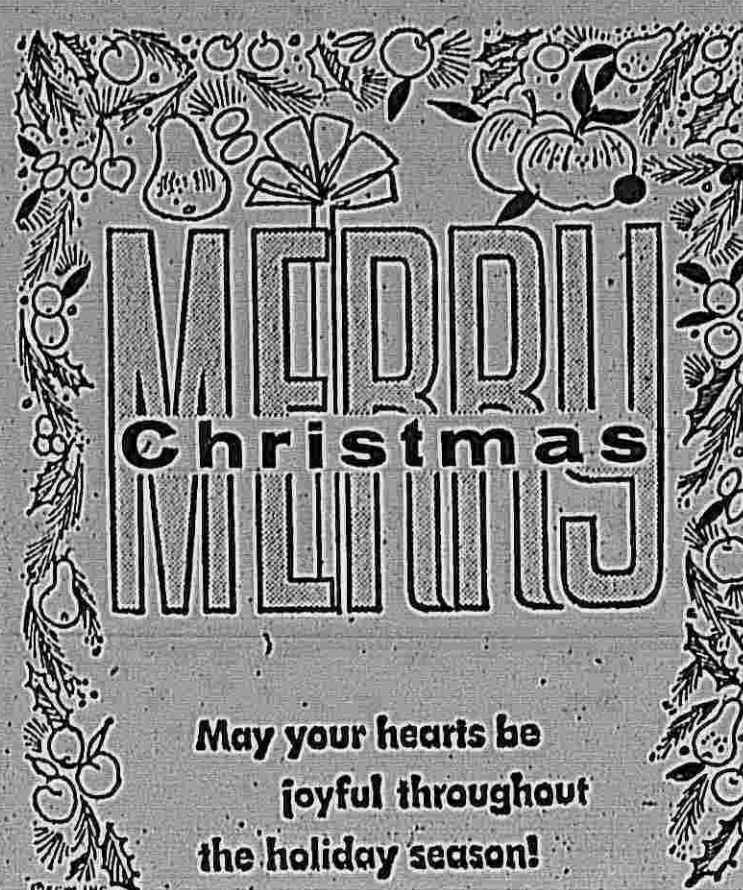

Kleenex double layer paper towels become angels, dolls, snowmen or good luck trolls with the help of styrofoam balls and any of the other trimmings. Fold towels to make skirt or trouser shapes, trim with pinking scissors and attach a styrofoam ball heads with straight pins.

Afraid you couldn't have a couples' party with tree trimmings? Just try it! Even if the men seem shy at first, the creative challenge will be too much and they'll join the tree-trimmers soon. But don't count on using your guests' ornaments to trim your tree—they'll want to take them home!

Drivers should be aware of the fact that their eyes play tricks on them at night and they do see objects they expect to see much farther away than unexpected ones. For safety, drive more slowly at night.

State laws require annual inspection of cars over five years old. Your heart is not a machine — and you can't trade it in for a new one. A regular physical examination by your doctor is your best protection.

Antioch Residents Remember Christmas In Other Lands

The celebration of Christmas is almost universal, but this doesn't mean that celebration of the big day is the same in all countries. Santa Claus becomes St. Nicholas in some countries. In some countries Christmas is stretched out for several days.

The observance of Christmas as a day to give gifts has grown in the United States as the country became more prosperous and advertising stimulated this side of Christmas. Still, the observance of Christmas as a whole varies a good deal in our country, often influenced by traditions brought by parents or grandparents from other countries.

Many of the people who live in this area came from other countries and can remember the observance of Christmas in those countries. Most of them now conform to this country's observance, and point out that Christmas in their native land has probably changed with the years as it has here.

CHRISTMAS IN BELGIUM

Marie Vermeyon, Highland Ave., Petite Lake, remembers very well the Christmas season in Belgium, her native country. Santa Claus Day, Dec. 6, is the big day for children in Belgium. They put out a plate for Santa Claus and his donkey on the eve of Santa Claus day, with a carrot, perhaps a piece of bread, and sugar. When they arise in the morning, they find the gifts left by Santa Claus, just as children here do.

Christmas Day, December

25, is not so festive a day as here. It's more a religious day, but this is the day when any gift exchanging between adults takes place.

IN GERMANY

Mrs. Samuel Ries, Park Ave., spent her youth in Germany. "Christmas is not just one day in Germany, or wasn't when I lived there," she says. (Mrs. Ries came to this country in 1922). "Everyone celebrated at least two days, usually three."

Santa Claus came on Christmas Eve. The tree was decorated, and everyone went to church. Santa Claus only brought one or two gifts and only the children received gifts.

Christmas Day, Dec. 25th, was a quiet day, a day to go to church. Godparents always remembered their godchildren with gifts.

December 26 was a day for visiting, and for big meals. The next day was another day of feasting and visiting. Christmas was a big event and there was much baking and food-preparing to get ready for it.

IN ENGLAND

Walter Hills, Route 21, came to this country from East Bourne, England, when he was 19 years old. The children there hung their stockings on the mantel on Christmas Eve, and found candy or nuts and a small toy in each one Christmas morning. Larger gifts were under the tree Christmas morning.

Christmas itself was a quiet day for going to church. Dec. 2, Boxing Day, was the festive time, when everyone did as he wished, going hunting, fishing and having all kinds of fun.

Mrs. Hill was born in this country but has clung to some of the Danish traditions brought here by her mother. "Christmas Eve was the big celebration," she says. "The big Christmas dinner is served Christmas Eve, and gifts opened. Then Christmas, Dec. 25, is a quiet day, and everyone goes to church."

DENMARK

Peter Toft, Harden Ave., Antioch, came to the United States from Denmark 57 years ago. His recollection of early Christmases has grown dim, he says, but he does remember that Christmas was celebrated from Christmas Eve to New Year's. The family Christmas party was Christmas Eve.

A DUTCH CHRISTMAS

Cornelius Lulofs, 345 Hazelwood Drive, Antioch, came to this country from Holland not many years ago. There, St. Nicholas Day, December 6, is the big day when children get gifts. St. Nick rides through the streets on a white horse, with his helper, a small boy.

December 25 is the religious holiday. A Christmas tree is decorated and the trees are burned on Old Year's Eve.

Mrs. Lulofs is from England. She remembers Christmas as being much as it is here, except that Boxing Day follows on Dec. 26. This is a festive day, too. The name originated because this is the day when a gift, in a box, was given by people to public servants such as postmen.

CHRISTMAS IN COLOMBIA

Beatriz Eugenia Munoz Castro has no trouble remembering Christmas at home—this is her first Christmas away from home. Beatriz is the Antioch High exchange student from Cali, Colombia, South America.

The Christmas season starts with Virgin Day on December 8. Many candles are lighted all over the house and at the entrance. Dec. 15 is Pesebre, and the next nine days are a time of prayer.

Colombians decorate a Christmas tree and have Christmas decorations throughout the house, as we do here. Christmas gifts are exchanged Christmas Eve, and at about midnight all go to the Mesa de Gallo (Mass of God).

In Colombia, Beatriz says, Papa Noel takes the place of Santa Claus. People sing

May the Christ Child bless you and yours.

Christmas carols as they present Christmas gifts. Christmas dinner features turkey and cranberries.

The holiday season is extended in Colombia. School is out Dec. 21 or 22 and resumes about January 7 or 8. Jan. 6 is the last Holy Day, like Twelfth Night here.

The city of Cali has a special fiesta starting Dec. 27, honoring all the Sugar Queens of Colombia. There are four or five days of bull fights, and special places where the whole family goes to dance.

New Year's Eve is Open House, with Cena served at midnight. This is a combination of many foods. The whole family gathers and everyone's health is drunk.

SCOTLAND

Mrs. Ellen McDowell, a well-known local artist, comes from Scotland. Christmas, she says, is celebrated almost the same as here. Most homes in Scotland, she says, are heated by fireplaces. The children hang their stockings before the fireplace. They write letters to Santa Claus and let them fly up the chimney.

There is a great difference in the way the Scotch celebrate New Year's compared to our way, however. New Year's Eve and day are much more emphasized as a time for visiting friends.

Each person tries to "first foot" his friends—that is, be the first to greet him on New Year's. If the first person in your home on this day is dark, that's good luck.

And you never, never make these calls without a gift. A small gift of food and drink, mainly shortbread and wine. Most people take with them a glass of wine, in which to drink their friend's health.

A SWISS CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Rosemarie Muter, Antioch, is from Switzerland. She spent four years in Canada before coming to the United States eight years ago. She remembers Christmas in Switzerland as being a wonderful time and a lot of fun.

Like Holland and Belgium, the Swiss have Klaus Day on Dec. 6. The children put their shoes outside the door, and they know that Santa will come during the night and that in the morning they'll find a gift in their shoe. If they're good, they find a small gift, usually fruit or candy. If they're not good, they find only a stick. "I found a stick one year," Mrs. Muter says.

There was another custom on Klaus Day in the village where Mrs. Muter lived. "Big boys, with their faces blacked, came and knocked on the door, kind of like your Halloween. We never gave them anything, and they didn't play tricks—it was just for fun."

Santa Claus comes again on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24. A big supper is served to the family gathering, which includes all the married daughters and sons and their families. Then Santa comes in a sleigh, with a big sack, and gifts are distributed. Each child must recite a poem or sing a song before he gets his gift.

The thing I remember most about Christmas was the beautiful singing," Mrs. Muter says. "We all sang Christmas songs Christmas Eve. We had a wonderful time."

The Swiss decorate a Christmas tree, as we do. When Mrs. Muter was a child, it was never put up until the day before Christmas. Later, it was put up perhaps a week before Christmas.

No Christmas cards are sent by the Swiss, but everyone sends New Year's cards.

very small cards (our post office would be displeased.) New Year's Eve in Switzerland is Sylvester Eve. Most people go out, perhaps to plays, then dancing. New Year's Day is a family day.

CHRISTMAS IN JAPAN

Shigeyo Chiba is a young Japanese lady who is attending Antioch High School. This is her second year in the United States.

Christmas is not a big day in Japan, says Shigeyo. There are not too many Christians. However, many people who are not Christians celebrate Christmas just because it's a nice holiday.

Only children receive gifts. There is little in the way of Christmas decorations, and Christmas trees are only in public places. Pine trees are scarce in Japan, Shigeyo says, and no one would cut them down.

However, each home has a Christmas cake, they sing carols, and wait for Santa Claus. Special foods are cooked and the young people have parties and dancing.

New Year's is the big celebration in Japan. The festivities start three days before New Year's Eve and continue until January 7. Three days before New Year's Eve certain food is served, a special noodle, the eating of which means long life. All kinds of food is served, like Thanksgiving here, Shigeyo says.

Everyone sends cards at New Year's, but no Christmas cards are sent in Japan. On New Year's Eve, the temple bells ring 107 times, and at the 107th stroke the new year starts.

There is no work in Japan from Dec. 27 to Jan. 4 or 5. The New Year season is a time of much visiting.

January 15 is Adult Day. Everyone who is 20 years old gets a present from the city. A celebration is held, with speeches by the Mayor and other important people. Japanese people reach their majority at 20 years of age. From then on, they can vote and are legally adults.

All the young people dress up and go out to celebrate Adult Day.

School recesses in Japan from December 24 to January 20. However, the children get only one month vacation in the summer, plus two weeks of spring vacation.

There are many lovely traditions, from many lands, bound up in Christmas, and many families develop traditions of their own to add warmth and joy to the Christmas season.

The Tree Of Dolls

(From The Living Museum)

For the past three years, the Illinois State Museum has celebrated the holidays with the largest Christmas tree which can be stood upright in the lobby, and the staff has decorated the boughs with a fascinating selection of antique dolls. Every Christmas tree, no matter where, is different. It reflects the preferences, traditions, backgrounds, and artistry of each person and each household. Thus the Museum's annual tree of dolls is unlike any other; and in consequence, it is looked forward to as one of the highlights of the year. Transient, beautiful, delightful, a fascination to young and old, the tree is the Museum's warm welcome and holiday greeting to all its friends.

Dolls have been part of the lives of humankind since very early in our history. Although doll-like objects have been found in excavations of antiquity, they were probably effigies, figures used in worship. These earliest doll forms were sacred; they were not toys but were gods, ancestor images, fetiches, solemn religious figures intended to preserve the tribe or community from harm.

Perhaps no one will ever know who made the first doll as a plaything to delight a little girl; yet, sometime in history, this small event took place. When it did, the doll became a toy, not a god. In Egypt the doll might be an elegant carved ivory figure with real hair secured in its miniature skull; or it might be only a handful of straw tied round about in the right places to indicate head and waist, a toy for a peasant child. In ancient Greece, the doll was a cherished toy until the little girl was ready to be married. Then it was taken to the shrine of the favorite goddess and, perhaps with secret tears, presented to her as the former owner attained woman's estate.

During the long, grim period of the Dark Ages in Europe, no record was left behind to show that any child had a doll. The struggling Church, besides, discouraged the manufacture or use of anything that might be interpreted as an idol or false god. Then, as Europe climbed out of its morass of cultural decline into the thirteenth century, dolls appeared on the scene. Made in Nuremberg and dressed in the fashions of the times, they were here to stay. Europeans specialized in many kinds of dolls, from the sort to be played with to the kind that was used to illustrate high fashion. These Parisian dolls were miniature, highly detailed fashion models; some were sent to the American colonies and other far places to show the ladies what was being worn in fashionable circles and from which they could order their own.

In America, few dolls of such elegance were available to be played with. The cruder, homemade sort were more durable, more genuinely more lovable, perhaps, than those remote, supercilious beauties, and were carved of wood, made of rags, of cornshucks, or straw, of almost anything available. Little girls in a pioneer land needed doll-babies to love and cherish and from which to learn how to be good mothers. Indian children had dolls made of rawhide, feathers and wood. Pioneer dolls often had heads made of dried apples, hickorynuts or gourds.

With the coming of the industrial revolution in Europe and America, the manufacture of an innumerable variety of dolls for the first time began on a wide scale. The bodies might be made of kid or cloth, plaster or china, paper or leather. Since they were always decently clothed in the costumes of the day, usually from neck to feet, the unrealistic appearance of the body usually made little difference. It was the heads which mattered most and which were given the greatest attention from manufacturers. The head might be molded in bisque, an unglazed china, or made of papier-mache, which was a paper and glue mixture painted and glazed. There were wooden heads, hand-carved at first; and heads made of highly glazed china, or wax, or of fine Parian, a porcelain that resembles marble. Dolls' faces, given great attention to detail, possessed undeniable character and personality. They might have molded and painted hair or real hair made in a wig and glued in place, might have a rigid neck or a swivel neck, might have eyes that opened and closed, and lovely rosy lips slightly parted to show snowy little teeth. Some dolls even talked, but their repertoire was a good deal more limited than that of the loquacious dolls of today. The old dolls were considered remarkable if they said "Ma-ma" in recognizable tones.

The arms and legs of early dolls were stick-like or dowel-like or were carved of wood; later they might be made of kid or cloth stuffed with cotton, and the hands and feet either left undetailed, or the fingers were carefully indicated with stitching, and tiny shoes were made to fit exactly. The costumes, of course, varied from the elaborate fashion doll to the baby doll in a christening gown, and all the innumerable other forms of dolls which delighted the hearts of children. For, although there were indeed those religious effigies and those French fashion figures which were only dress models, the doll itself was basically an object which had been made and dressed with love to be presented to a child on a special occasion, notably on Christmas morning.

There is no way to tell, of course, how many of the small dolls hung on the Museum's Christmas tree once were given as gifts to please children long ago. They are part of the Museum's collections given by many people. Yet many of these may have sat quietly beneath a darkened fir tree in the parlor until that dazzling moment when the candles were lighted on Christmas morning, and the children burst whooping into the room to see what had been left for them... the lovely Christmas doll, waiting there. And today, waiting for you, are all those special dolls on the Museum's great tree, shining with Christmas greeting.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The services to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday will emphasize the rich blessings which an understanding of Christ Jesus' mission brings to mankind. The Lesson-Sermon begins with the prophecy from Isaiah (9:6): "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."

Among the correlative readings will be the first tenet of the Christian Science

Church: "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 497).

The Lesson-Sermon subject is "Christian Science."

The Illinois Society for the Prevention of blindness states that you see less at night than you do in the day and this fact should be remembered when driving at night. Remember, all other drivers see less also.

Some of us don't know what we want, but feel sure we don't have it.

May we extend best wishes to you, our good friends and patrons!
